

Automatic stretch film

Technical and Commercial File

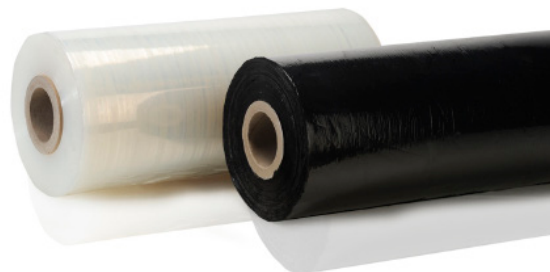

CANEMBAL

Description

Pallet wrap protects and wraps the pallet to secure the load. Thanks to its flexibility and firmness, it protects against possible breakage, weather conditions and dirt. Furthermore, it is necessary to differentiate between stretch film and pre-stretched film.

Advantages

Thanks to the materials we use for its manufacture, we can offer a film with exceptional characteristics, especially in terms of its elasticity and resistance to tension and perforation.

Applications

Its main function is to reinforce, secure and protect goods. They are usually a complementary element to angle and straps, as they offer greater rigidity and stability to the load.

Storage

Films should be protected from adverse conditions and stored indoors. Optimum storage temperature: between +5 and +30°C.

Recommendations

Do not use the same type of film for everything. Each type has a different function.

Film Standard

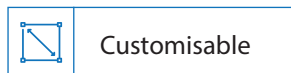

Good adhesion and strength, high holding power and load stability..

Pre-strech film 250%-300%

A wrapping machine with a pre-stretching carriage is required to use pre-stretching.

Customised film

Its strength works, compacting the load. And its customisation makes your product unique.
